The Annual Civic Luncheon

in The Old Library, GUILDHALL

WEDNESDAY 25th MARCH 2015

Our AGM will again be held in the Print Room of The Guildhall. Immediately after business has been concluded, there will be a drinks Reception in the Old Library prior to a 3 course Luncheon. As usual, this will be a magnificent occasion in the Club's calendar, when you will be able to meet the new Master and the Wardens.

As a publisher, the incoming Master is delighted to be holding the Annual Civic Luncheon and his first event of the year, in such a room and especially with William Caxton looking down on proceedings from the imposing stained glass windows.

This is an ideal opportunity to invite friends and family along. It is to be hoped of course that some may wish to become members - they are sure to appreciate the fellowship of the Club and greatly enjoy the pageantry of this special occasion. We are delighted that our President, Alderman David Graves will be with us at this event and, as guests of honour, we welcome Sheriff and Alderman, Dr Andrew Parmley, together with Mrs Parmley.

Master Elect Glynn Jones, sincerely hopes that you will attend this important day in the Club's year and give a warm welcome to all our guests.
