A Tour of the Supreme Court

with Lunch at 'Cellarium'.

FRIDAY 20th JANUARY 2017

The first event of 2017 offers a tour of The Supreme Court in Parliament Square, currently very much in the news for the historic "Brexit" challenge by the Government.

During the tours, which last about an hour, expect to see the magnificent Justices' Library not normally open to the public and the beautiful courtrooms. The experienced member of staff leading the tour will give an introduction to the Court's role in the UK justice system, explain the history and artwork of the building, give interesting examples of cases heard by the Court and answer questions.

Tours will start at 11am but allow time to clear the Security check. There is an interesting exhibition/display area a small gift shop and a Café to enjoy an included tea or coffee when not "on tour".

After an absorbing visit, a five minute walk takes us to Cellarium - a welcoming & tranquil restaurant within the 14th Century fabric of Westminster Abbey where the monks themselves once stored their own wine, bread & cheeses. A welcoming glass of red or white wine will be followed by a three course lunch accompanied by further wine. Please make your menu selections on the Booking Form
